

your Greece fact sheet

GETTING THERE: The easiest way to get to Greece is by air or cruise ship port of call. The preferred airport will depend on the region you visit as Greece has 15 international airports. The most common international airports include:

- Athens (ATH)
- Thessaloniki (SKG)
- Santorini (JTR)
- Mykonos (JMK)
- Heraklion (HER)

LANGUAGE: The official language in Greece is Greek.

CLIMATE: Greece has a warm Mediterranean climate overall. The climate tends to be warmer in the southern part of the country with mostly dry days throughout summer and wet, cold days during winter. Overall, the average daytime temperature in peak summer season is about 77°F and about 50°F in winter. Many of the Greek islands have much milder temperatures due to the prevailing winds. For example, the popular destination of Mykonos has average temperatures of about 67°F year-round.

MONEY/CURRENCY (CREDIT CARDS, DEBIT CARDS, TIPPING, ATMS): The main currency is the Euro (EUR) and credit and debit cards are also widely accepted. It is recommended to also carry some cash for smaller towns and less touristic areas.

Tipping is not common among locals but has become expected of tourists. Plan to tip 10-15% in cash to your restaurant servers. You should also plan to round up a taxi bill and tip about one Euro per bag with a porter. Guides that offer a great experience would likely warrant a tip of about 10% of your tour cost.

ELECTRICITY: Greece uses European plugs, C and F. The voltage is 230 volts and 50Hz.
